

Inspiration and Inerrancy

Acknowledgements

Assembling this dossier has involved the labour and generosity of a large number of individuals. The project began with a briefing paper prepared by Mark Worthing for Bishop John Henderson in 2014. The idea was then conceived of assembling the key lectures by seminary faculty from the period in question and publishing them together with the doctrinal statements of the young LCA. That concept further developed into the present online dossier as more documents relevant to the debate were located in the personal files of Reinhard Mayer and in the Lutheran Archives.

Thanks are due for the conception of the project to Mark Worthing and the committee of the former Australian Lutheran Institute for Theology and Ethics (ALITE) – Stephen Hultgren, Jeff Silcock, James Winderlich, and Merryn Ruwoldt. For the many hours spent in the transcription, proofreading, and preparation of the documents, thanks are due to Merryn Ruwoldt, Lauren Hubner, Leanne Daymond, and Sally Pfeiffer.

We also give thanks for the generosity of the many individuals and families that gave permission for these documents to be made public: Erich Renner, Maurice Schild, the Hebart family, the Hamann family, the Koch family, Reinhard Mayer, and Vernon Grieger.

Finally, special thanks are due to the Lutheran Archives, Adelaide, where the originals of many of these documents are preserved.
